

Course Description

This course examines a variety of literary works chosen because they are intellectually demanding and, consequently, promote improvements in reading comprehension skills and improved vocabulary. Julius Caesar, A Tale of Two Cities, Lord of the Flies, and Night, as well as other significant works, are studied. The genres of the short story, poetry, and nonfiction are also included as study units. Students are also encouraged to write, direct, and act in their own dramatic creations and present an informative or persuasive speech. Writing expository papers is required with frequent assignments of varying length. Critical and persuasive papers are assigned that require MLA documentation of online and textual sources. Grammar and usage units are reviewed and studied during the year, and independent reading assignments are required. Students in this course are expected to demonstrate a consistent work ethic, an aptitude for literary analysis, and a desire to improve their writing skills through challenging assignments.

Grade Ten offers students the opportunity to take 10 – CP or 10 – H. Both classes are college preparatory; placement is determined by performance in Grade 9. Teachers consider differentiating factors when recommending placement; differentiating factors include the pace of delivery, the complexity of assessments, and expectations for independent study.

Study Habits Required for Success:

1. Close reading of texts: Please expect 25 minutes of quiet home reading time 4 nights per week for CP students and 30-40 for Honors students, 5 nights per week. Distraction (social media) free.
2. Utilize the steps of the writing process: building a knowledge base, brainstorming, outlining, drafting, peer editing, and finalizing.
3. As a college readiness tool, students should have Grammarly on all publishing applications.
4. Annotate/passage map texts for ease of analysis.
5. Stay after with the teacher to ensure expectations prior to submitting a draft.
6. Split Membean minutes to meet weekly deadlines.
7. Download audiobooks to re-engage attention with text.
